HOUSE CLEANING.

Nearly every good housekeeper in the city is now in the midst of that ordeal which appears to her at this time year unforgettably.

ANNUAL HOUSE CLEANING

When going through the china closet she will discover many pieces of the china dinner set cracked, chipped or missing, and to her great distress the stock of crockery and glassware badly depleted. In this disconsolation she sighs and asks, "Is life worth living?" We say emphatically yes—for you can buy a good set of crockery and vitality over these trifles in such a case. Come to us and see the sets of dinner ware from $5.00 to $10.00. Fine china from $18.00 to $30.00 a set. Tumblers from 2c to 10c each, and cooking utensils for less than half what you used to pay for same.

Come to Herrick & Son's and talk it over. We can furnish anything you may want in bric-a-brac or in housekeeping line at satisfactory and comforting prices.

Sensational Statements Made by Attorneys

Of the Testimony In the Woods Will Case.

Family Troubles Drove Him to Drinking.

The Decree In the Seiberling Case.

The attorneys for both the plaintiffs and defendants, in the action to set aside the will of John B. Woods, made their opening statements to the jury late Monday afternoon.

This is the second trial of the action. An estate worth about $125,000 is at stake. A peculiar feature of this hearing is the fact that all the children are now united, in a desire to have the will declared null and void. At the first trial, Mrs. Mary Hilbish, who was given $10,000, asked that the prayer of the petition be ignored. It developed, however, that she would get double that amount if the instrument was set aside and she is now with the plaintiffs. Those who contest the case are R. L. Andrew, Mrs. Harriet E. Fitch and children of Cleveland, Mrs. Brown of Pennsylvania and Messrs. Scully and Foster of Iowa. The first named is a son-in-law, Mrs. Fitch a step-sister, Mrs. Brown a niece and the two men old acquaintances.

Attorney Voris, for the plaintiffs, said that they would show that Mr. Woods had an unnatural hatred for his children and that he was of unsound mind. Testimony will be introduced to show that he wandered away from his home during the night clad only in his night clothes, that he ran about the residence barking like a dog or howling like a bull and that he would throw stones at the windows of the rooms where other members of the family were asleep.

Judge Tibbals, who is one of the attorneys for the defendants, stated that it would be proven that he did all of the things while under the influence of liquor. It will be claimed that his family relations were so unpleasant to him that he would go to a wine cellar in the residence, after his return from the bank, and drink to such excess that he was not capable of governing himself. When not under the influence of strong drink, it is said, that he was a man of great shrewdness and business ability. Testimony will be introduced, tending to show that the treatment accorded him was decidedly unpleasant, and that his children had little or no affection for him.

There was considerable difficulty experienced in getting a jury. It was necessary to seek out for additional takers in order to fill the panel.

The Seiberling Decree.

In the decree awarding judgments to the various creditors of the J. F. Seiberling & Co. judgments are returned against steel various stockholders of the defunct company as follows:

Frank A. Seiberling	$ 54,203.75
Chas. W. Seiberling	5,232.25
James H. Seiberling	2,105
Samuel H. Seiberling	2,105
Frank A. Seiberling et al.	3,157
John F. Seiberling	38,797.81

H. T. Wilson, the referee, is allowed $200 as fees. He is appointed receiver to collect the judgments. Messrs. E. Kohler, attorneys, are allowed $450 and Allen & Cobbs, $100. The receiver is ordered to pay dividends to all creditors except the following: John F. Seiberling, $20,000; and James H. and Samuel H. Miller, $77,889.08. The amount of dividends due them will be credited on the judgments entered against them.

BUTTON.

at the command of the political generals of the Republican Machine, to utterly rout the Democratic forces. In this they were sorely disappointed.

Finally the mild-mannered Mr. Carlton came to the rescue of his bewildered colleagues. With a great deal of irrelevance and trepidation he managed to say that His Honor, Mayor Young, had made a good political speech, but that the Republicans of Akron can take defeat gracefully. He closed his remarks by again agitating the repeal of the $1 fee paid to Clerk Isbell for issuing building permits. The City Clerk then said 218 permits were issued last year and $40 was paid to compel builders to come in and secure permits.

Clerk Isbell's Chance.

City Clerk Isbell made a star speech of the evening and, he didn't mince words, either. He said: "This is gotten up for just one reason, but it won't work in Akron. You gentlemen are nothing but an aid society to the Republican Machine and while you are in the minority, want to cut out all the heads you can. The Republican commissioners, a few years ago, elected F. C. Wilson, as commissioner's clerk at $700 per year, when it offered to do it for $300, and I think I am as competent as he is. The only reason you are sore is because the head of the hardest worker for the Machine in your party has fallen."

Commissioner McMillen acknowledged that Button was the best worker in the party.

The vote cut off the clerk's fees resulted in the seven Democrats voting nay and the five Republicans voting aye.

Ordinances to Abolish.

A resolution to abolish the office of Police Sergeant was referred to the ordinance committee.

Another resolution, to put Deputy Clerk W. A. Durand out of office, was introduced by Mr. Homan.

"Who drew up that resolution?" asked Mr. Brady.

Mr. Homan answered: "The city solicitor."

"No I didn't," said Solicitor Egan, shaking his head. He said he was not the father of a resolution like that. Upon motion of Mr. Fieberger it was referred to the ordinance committee.

Next on the program was a communication suggesting that a committee of three be appointed to ascertain the amount of fees that have been collected on the city seals and report to the court, and, "If any one has used certain fees, that legal steps be taken to prosecute the same."

Investigate Feed Bills.

Upon Clerk Isbell's suggestion a clause was inserted, stating that the same committee, which was appointed by the chair and composed of Messrs. Brady, Paul and Homan should also investigate the feed accounts during Harper's administration.

Mr. Isbell said to a DEMOCRAT reporter: "Twice as much was spent during the Harper administration for feed for 20 horses as we spent for 21, and feed was much cheaper then than now. Clerk Wilson also refused to turn the books over to me."

"Now that the Republican Machine started this investigation business," continued the Clerk, "it will be given a test in all departments and will probably show up some very peculiar happenings in the history of city affairs."

Thoroughly Disgusted.

The next number was an ordinance repealing the ordinance creating Police Prosecutor C. C. Beane's office. Mr. Fieberger was thoroughly disgusted with the proceedings by this time and said: "There is more politics here tonight than there was during my whole term two years ago."

That ordinance was also referred to the ordinance committee.

Another ordinance to disburse with Mayor Clerk R. B. Halter's office, was referred to the ordinance committee.

Clerk Isbell remarked before passing to the next order of business: "Well, Mr. Homan, have you any more ordinances; you are always working for the city's interests."

Property Owners Protest.

Forty property owners on East Market st., between Buchtel and Case avenues, presented a petition remonstrating against the improvement of the street. They represented 90 per cent of the property owners. The petition also said that should the Council see fit to act against their wishes, they wanted the old curb relaid, redress the stone now in use and relay it upon gravel and taffier, and pave between the street car tracks with brick. Referred to Commissioners.

Samuel J. Hibbs kicked about cars not stopping at the corner of Glenwood av. and Charles st. on North Hill. Referred to Board.

Mr. Paul stated that citizens wanted a bridge over the Cuyahoga river on Cuyahoga st. People cannot see cars coming down the hill and are liable to meet with accidents. Referred to commissioners.

Complaints.

Mr. Carlton called attention to the bad condition of street car tracks on College st. at Center st. at the intersection of Buchtel av. is also in bad shape.

Mr. Fieberger said Mr. View av. people wanted a grade established. Wm. B. Hunt asked for a rebate for lowering his sidewalk. Referred to Commissioners.

Mr. Homan remonstrated against the filthy condition of cat basins at the corner of Maple and North sts. and on North Howard st.

On Schedule Time.

A petition was presented signed by 10 property owners on Bowery and adjacent streets complaining because the Rapid Transit Co. fails to comply with the schedule stated in their franchise. Mr. Brady said the City Solicitor should see that each promise made in the franchise is fulfilled and that if it was not an ordinance should be passed to rescind the franchise.

Commissioner McGarry informed the council that President Walsh had said that cars would run on schedule time on and after May 1.

An ordinance to sprinkle Park st. from Forge to Union was referred to the city solicitor.

Minor Matters.

The street committee was granted further time in the Perkins street extension question.

Chief H. H. Harrison reported 141 arrests in April.

J. R. Nutt and Will Christy filed a letter accepting the telephone franchise.

An ordinance to license bill posting, was referred to the ordinance committee.

The pay roll was allowed.

An ordinance was introduced stating that no wires shall be put in any building until a permit has been issued.
